

TENT FOR SEVEN:
A CAMPING ADVENTURE GONE SOUTH OUT WEST

by Marty Ohlhaut with Grace Ly

“A factual account that reads like a breathtaking thriller...a great job entertaining readers with a humorous account of an ill-fated family vacation while providing food for thought.

Highly recommend.”

—Readers' Favorite (5 Stars)

SUGGESTED BOOK CLUB QUESTIONS

1. After reading Tent do you have any desire to go camping?
2. Did reading Tent bring up childhood memories?
3. Do you believe in divine intervention? Did Tent influence your belief one way or the other?
4. Would you open your home to a family of seven who you'd just met?
5. Which of Marty's five children would you like to meet most? Why?
6. What did you think of Mel's mountaintop ritual?
7. Why do you think Joeline insisted on staying for the remainder of the trip?
8. Do you think Marty and his friends made the right choice on Mount Whitney?
9. How is camping in your 20's with your friends different than camping as a young family?

10. Have you had a bear encounter? How do you think you'd react if you had one?
11. Do you think the flashbacks added to the story? Did you have a favorite one?
12. How do you think Marty performed as a father and husband?
13. If you could ask Marty or Joeline one question, what would it be?
14. Would you have wanted to be on this camping trip? How about the Wild West trip?
15. Who wants to try Saskatoon pie?

